

Panel 4: Redesigning urban infrastructure with stakeholders

OTSUKA Takashi

Joint-Director of Knowledge and Communications
Institute for Global Environmental Strategies (IGES)

Zero Carbon City International Forum

17-18 March 2021

Platform for Redesign 2020

Online Platform on Sustainable and Resilient Recovery from COVID-19

PLATFORM
for REDESIGN 2020

Online Platform on Sustainable and Resilient Recovery from COVID-19

環境省
Ministry of the Environment

United Nations
Climate Change

IGES
Institute for Global Environmental Strategies

- ◆ Showcase national efforts taken and planned to overcome COVID-19 and environmental crises

Stronger Climate Action in Recovery Packages

Renewable Energy & Green Hydrogen

Transportation (Ground Transportation)

Transportation (Aviation)

Housing & Urban Planning (including Adaptation)

Circular Economy

Green Jobs

The “Triple R Framework”

Response

Targeted interventions to address immediate impacts

Recovery

Policy reforms and allocation of stimulus funding to change the orientation of development

Redesign

Transformation of socioeconomic systems to accelerate just transitions

Short-term

Medium-term

Long-term

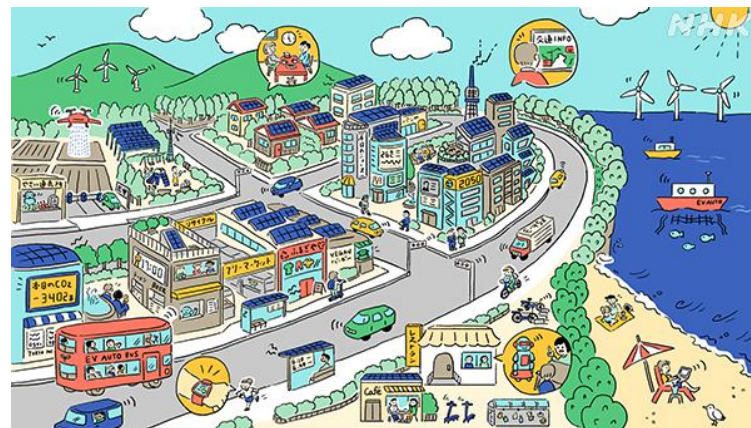

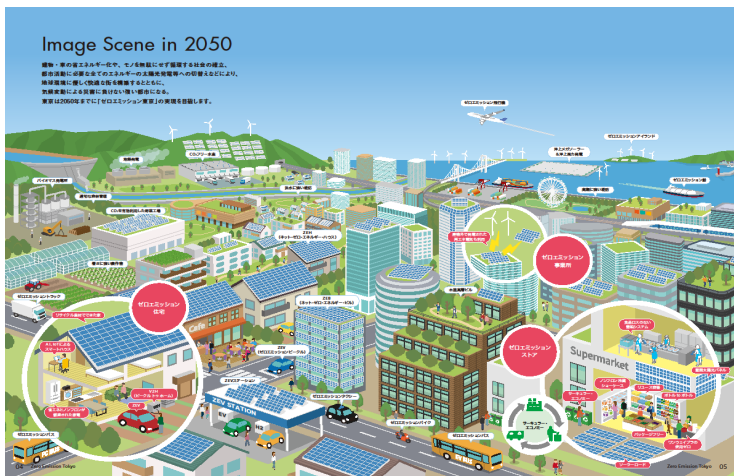

Are we building back better?

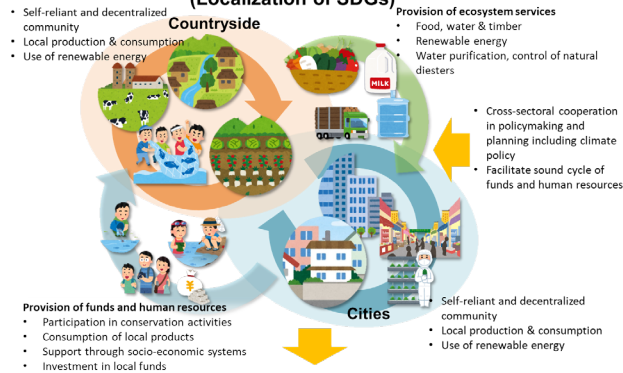

Source: <https://twitter.com/UNEP>

Source: <https://www.unep.org/resources/publication/are-we-building-back-better-evidence-2020-and-pathways-inclusive-green>

Source: <https://www.nhk.or.jp/gendai/comment/0019/topic011.html>

Local Circulating and Ecological Sphere (Local CES) (Localization of SDGs)

Revitalization of Decentralized and Connected Local Societies

Source: <https://isap.iges.or.jp/2020/en/tt6.html>

島まるごとカーボンニュートラル

Source: <https://www.cas.go.jp/jp/seisaku/carbon-neutral/dai1/siryou3.pdf>

Thank you for your kind attention.