DESIGNING GREEN, RESILIENT, AND INCLUSIVE CITIES

OPERATIONALIZING KNOWLEDGE FOR URBAN DEVELOPMENT

World Bank Tokyo Development Learning Center (TDLC)

Tokyo-based World Bank program funded by the Government of Japan.

TDLC is committed to disseminating practical Japanese and global urban solutions into World Bank projects.

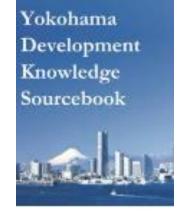

KNOWLEDGE SHARING FOR URBAN DEVELOPMENT

City Partnerships

Kitakyushu Model Subsector: Interplay between Solid Waste and Urban Flood Risk

①wond hase were · Interface · 金北九州市

Robust legal framework – 30 years: Constitution, City Statute, wide legal framework at a hange of culture: accepting and including informality, decentralization, participatory m ral/stakeholder's governance models for planning & policy. Trajectory of housing policies – know-how – evolving value chain 1st generation: top down - dictatorship > neration: bottom up - local innovation generation: hybrid - national enablers + local leadership illingness & capacity: public/private/civil society dow: $ to fund two l programs C – Slum Upgrading cceleration Program) nha Casa, Minha Vi (My House, My Life)

ity levels, changes in the civil code & environmental legislation

Technical Deep Dive on Low Carbon Climate-Smart Cities March 2022

••••••

Climate-smart urban infrastructure in Tanzania (Dar es Salaam Metropolitan Development Project Phase 2) TDLC is a medium for facilitating knowledge flows to cities to prompt action on climate change

THANK YOU

1.00

1

1000